RDK AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERING SCHOLARSHIP:

Defintion of agricultural engineering from the 1967 deed that established the trust for the scholarship.

(c) For the purposes of this deed the expression "agricultural engineering" shall have whatever meaning is from time to time attributed to it by the Council of the University and (without limiting its meaning) shall include the following -

(i) The development and preservation of land for agricultural purposes;

- 2 -

(ii) Irrigation, drainage, soil conservation, fencing and the design and construction of bridges and culverts;

(iii) The design and construction of shearing equipment, shearing accommodation, woolsheds and buildings and things pertaining to the production of wool;

(iv) The design and manufacture of implements, tools, machinery, engineering and any other plant and equipment for use in connection with the establishment and preservation of pasture, the production of wool, meat, poultry, milk, butterfat, crops, fruit, grain, trees, and in connection with other agricultural purposes;

(v) Research in agricultural engineering, in agricultural chemistry and any matters pertaining to agriculture including the production of wool, meat, poultry, milk, butterfat, crops, fruit grain and trees, the breeding and improvement of livestock, the prevention and treatment of diseases (whether of livestock, trees, fruit, crops, pasture or otherwise) and the eradication of rabbits, noxious vermin and other pests;