

Are you a few credits short of NCEA University Entrance?

You might be able to catch up on missing credits at Hagley College so you can still start at UC in Semester One, 2026.

Your next steps:

- 1 Contact NZQA to confirm how many credits you are missing, in which subjects, and whether they're internal or external credits.
- 2 Contact Hagley College to confirm if they can support you to complete the missing credits in January. Attend an interview.
- 3 Enrol in Hagley's Catch Up College and pay the administration fee.

What happens next:

After UC confirms your enrolment at Hagley, we'll email you the details of your provisional admission. You'll then be able to complete your enrolment at UC.

At the start of Semester One, Hagley will confirm whether you have met UE requirements and will upload your results to NZQA.

If Hagley confirms you have achieved UE, you will be able to start your degree studies in Semester One at UC.

If you have not achieved UE, we will advise you of your options and plan a study pathway with you.
