6. General Comment:

Christchurch Boys' High School, Linda Pears.
Please note: That while the actual responses to these evaluation questions in the study skills evaluation and gifted workshop evaluation forms give concrete information, it is often the combination of responses from a specific student which communicate more accurately the student voice. Often a combination of responses will lead to the student being referred to the Gifted and Talented co-ordinator for an interview and perhaps to other support agencies within the school (e.g. careers, guidance, learning support).
