Description of Task: Discussing our experiences staying with our New Caledonian host family. We are back from our ‘stage’ and want to relive some of the moments we had in our homestays. So, you are going to have a conversation with someone in your French class and share some of your experiences. You may use photos if you think these will add to the conversation. These are some of the ideas that could be part of the conversation:

- Description of the family, where they live, how many in the family, their personalities, how you got on with them etc
- An embarrassing moment while in the homestay - How did it happen, what did you say/do, how did you feel afterwards etc
- What you did with the homestay family
- What you enjoyed doing/ did not enjoy doing
- What you would have liked to have done
- Will you keep in touch?

... because it was a nice topic which I found easy to have conversation and share our experience in New Caledonia. It was easy to use a variety of language and comment on what the other person said... Aki

.... Because it was laid back and interesting and a wide range of vocab could easily be used. It was easy to listen to and react well with your partner... Annabel

... because I could use different tenses and had the opportunity to ask a lot of questions and converse naturally. There was also a wide range of vocab that we could use and lots of detail we could add... Rachel
