Your principal Mr Wood, has asked you to write a review about the local restaurant for him to take to his agent on his next visit to Japan.

Your review could include:

• Where it is located
• What times it is open
• What food and drink you can buy there
• What the food is like: Delicious/Cheap/Expensive???
• What nationality the waiter/waitresses are and what languages that they speak
• How often you go there and why

The information that you write about needs to
• Be at least 200 kana in length.
• Include hiragana, katakana and kanji as appropriate.
• Communicate basic personal information, ideas, and opinions.

Note:
• The quality of your language is more important than the quantity.
• Over your final three to five texts, there is to be evidence of communicating beyond the immediate context, for example, about the past, present, and/or future.
