

What you need to know

While enrolling into Transition Engineering Courses

If you are not a citizen of New Zealand, Australia, Cook Islands, Niue or Tokelau, and are not a permanent resident of NZ

Enrolment Process

You will enroll in a Continuous Professional Development course and will get a Digital badge issued on completion.

You can claim Continuous Professional Development (CPD) points. Check with your preferred/local accreditation organisation.

Note that the content of the courses is the same as for New Zealand students, even if those students are enrolled in a Micro-credential course.

Please check the Terms and Conditions (provided with this document) you will have to accept before completing your enrolment.

To start the process, please apply by filling up this form: Transition Engineering NonNZ Registration Form.

When your application has been approved, you will receive:

- Terms and Conditions Acceptance Form
- Payment information
