Transport – Ground

Similar to previous Workshops, we do not cover ground transport in your home country (eg from your home to the airport or parking fees at the airport).

In South Africa, it has been suggested to use the Gautrain to get from the airport to Pretoria. There will be signs in the airport directing you to the train station at the airport. Our local partners have assured us that it is safe to use the train. As with travelling anywhere in the world, watch your luggage and use common sense, but don't worry overly.

Nadine's South African phone is 0027 (0)78 642 8543

Natalia's NZ phone: 0064 (0) 21 0575750

The train ride will be from OR Tambo Airport to Hatfield. Please make a note of these stations for purchasing your tickets.

Natalia, Berry, Jess, Cher, Nadine and Louise have agreed to meet at the airport to travel on the train together. Natalia will purchase the train tickets for this group with her credit card. Amy and Tatiana will travel together in a rented car. Caroline will have to travel on her own,

NB: It will be impossible to reimburse you for the tickets if you decide to purchase them yourself: the current costs are R145 (one way), which equals approx. EURO10. The international bank transfer fees on our NZ side are NZ$25 per transaction (approx. EUR16), plus international bank transfer fees on your side – only the bank fees would be more expensive than the train tickets themselves.

You can buy tickets at the train station either at the ticket window where someone will be able to explain to you the route and the costs or you can use the ticket machines.

You will have to change trains:

- Take the Airport Express (the only train departing from the OR Tambo Airport) to Marlboro.
- At Marlboro get off and change to North-South Commuter link going North towards Pretoria and Hatfield.

- Get off at Hatfield (not Pretoria!)

From there the Brooklyn Guest House will arrange a pick up for you.

Cafes and restaurants are now in the latest version of the programme.

Important: Please note that on Monday, 21st April, and Saturday, April 27, the team will need to sort out our own dinner as it is a public holiday. It has been suggested to go to Brooklyn Square for dinner (<http://www.designsquare.co.za/categories.htm>).

On Monday, 21, we could meet in the lobby of the guest house at 5:30pm and go for the early dinner together.

Workshop Venue

The workshop venue will be the Acacia Room at Burgundy's on campus.

General

Please remember that Monday, 21 April, Easter Monday is a public holiday. Also, Sunday, 27 April is Freedom Day and is the most important public holiday in South Africa. Please expect that some places will be closed and public transport will not be as frequent as on normal days.

Weather

At the moment, the mornings and evenings are pretty chilly/cold and can be around 8-11 degrees Celsius but the days may rise to around 20 degrees Celsius. Our hosts suggest we pack some warm items for the mornings and evenings and possibly for during the day too.

Please see below two links to weather services which will give you a good idea before you leave of the expected temperatures for the week.
