Research Participation Exercise

As part of the requirements for PSYC105 and PSYC106 you are required to participate in a research project and to complete the research participation exercise assignment associated with that project. (This is quite separate from the research report that you have to complete). You only have to participate in one project which will last between 30 and 60 minutes (plus the time taken by you to complete the assignment). There will be a number of projects available through the semester and you can select which you wish to participate in. All of the available projects will be posted on the research participation site with a brief description of the project and the available timeslots.

In order to sign-up for a given project please follow these instructions:

1. On the PSYC105/PSYC106 Learn site click on the link to “Research Participation.”
2. Login using your student user code and password.
3. Click “Study Sign-up” to choose an experiment to participate in.
4. To check if there is available Timeslots for a particular study choose “Timeslots Available” link
5. Click on a project title and the description of that project and the available time slots for the project will appear
6. To sign up for a project select “View Time Slots for this Study.” then click the “Sign Up” for the date/time you can attend.
7. To check your sign-up time and location select “My Schedule and Credits”.
8. If you wish to change your sign-up time you can cancel a selected timeslot by selecting the cancel option under “My Schedule and Credits”. If you do need to cancel a timeslot please try to do so well in advance of the time.
9. Please ensure that you arrive at the research location just prior to the specified start time.

The TACs will be responsible for managing the research participation exercise. Please contact the TACs (psyc100tutors@canterbury.ac.nz) with any questions or problems.
